CENSUS BULLETIN.

No. 54.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

February 7, 1901.

POPULATION OF WISCONSIN BY COUNTIES AND MINOR CIVIL DIVISIONS.

This bulletin, prepared under the direction of Mr. WILLIAM C. HUNT, chief statistician for population, gives the aggregate population of Wisconsin by counties and minor civil divisions, according to the official count of the returns of the Twelfth Census, taken as of June 1, 1900.

Wisconsin was organized as a territory July 3, 1836, and admitted as a state May 29, 1848. Table 1 shows the population of Wisconsin at each census from 1840 to 1900, inclusive, together with the increase by number and per cent during each decade.

TABLE 1.—POPULATION OF WISCONSIN: 1840 TO 1900.

CENSUS YEARS.	Population.	INCREASE.
		Number.	Per cent.
1900.....	2,069,042	382,162	22.7
1890.....	1,686,880	371,383	28.2
1880.....	1,315,497	260,827	24.7
1870.....	1,054,670	278,789	35.9
1860.....	775,881	470,490	154.1
1850.....	305,891	274,416	886.9
1840.....	30,945

The population of the state in 1900 is 2,069,042 as against 1,686,880 in 1890, representing an increase since 1890 of 382,162, or 22.7 per cent. A small portion of this increase is due to the fact that there were 6,095 Indians and 355 other persons, or a total of 6,450 persons, on Indian reservations, etc., in Wisconsin, who were specially enumerated in 1890 under the provisions of the census act, but were not included in the general population of the state at that census. The population of the territory in 1840 was 30,945, and during the ten years from 1840 to 1850 it increased to 305,891, or 886.9 per cent. During the next decade the population increased to 775,881, or 154.1 per cent. Since then the increase has been by comparatively small percentages, though the growth of the state has been constant and by substantially uniform gains for a series of decades.

The total land surface of Wisconsin is, approximately, 54,450 square miles, the average number of persons to the square mile at the censuses of 1890 and 1900 being as follows: 1890, 31.0; 1900, 38.0.

Table 2 shows the population of Wisconsin by counties at each census from 1840 to 1900, inclusive, while table 3, which immediately follows, shows, for each county, the increase (or decrease) by number and per cent during the ten years from 1890 to 1900.

According to this summary the population of Milwaukee, beginning with 1,712 in 1840, increased to 20,061 in 1850, or 1,071.8 per cent. In the succeeding decade the population increased to 45,246, or 125.5 per cent. Since then the population has increased by strong percentages for each succeeding decade, and is at present more than 166 times as large as the population for 1840. Oshkosh and Racine have made satisfactory progress during the last decade, but La Crosse has gained only 15.2 per cent in population. Superior, which first appears in the census report of 1890, with 11,983 inhabitants, has since then acquired an additional population of 19,108, representing an increase of 159.5 per cent.
